To Whom It May Concern:

Harry Kramm has been our technical website person for the past five years. Just recently he built our website to our specifications. Throughout the process he was attentive to our concerns and really took the time to explain the smaller details of the technical aspects behind what you see on the screen. Harry is quick to respond to your call and updates are done quickly and professionally.

I have enjoyed my association with Harry and look forward to working with him for many years.

Yours truly,

Sarah Starling
